A14	741	26		Rome/Sparta?	74	P. Servilius C.f. Isauricus imperator cepit.	Simple dedicatory inscription of P. Servilius; the squeeze is now in Bologna but there are two different attestations for its original provenance: Rome and Sparta
A?15	19	30	ILLRP 318	Rome	? (prob. 3 rd cent.?)	c]osoled / ]one captom	Fragmentary dedicatory inscription only two partial lines visible; v. Degrassi (1961-62); date prob. 3 rd century?; space under final line suggests a two-line inscription

Gordon #48; prob. an attempt to reinscribe the text, perhaps related to the elogia of the Forum Augustum?; it is mentioned by both Pliny the Elder (NH 34.11.20) and Quintillian (1.7.12), neither of whom doubt the authenticity of the text. It is likely that the inscription was recut or copied and some false archaisms were introduced, arising from the difficulty of reading the older text.
B2	626	21	W84	Rome	142	L. Mummi L.f. cos. duct. auspicio imperioque eius Achaia capt. Corinto deleto Romam redieit triumphans ob hasce res bene gestas quod in bello voverat hanc aedem et Lengthy and detailed Mummius inscription; tablet found on Mons Caelius, perhaps originally linked to the temple in the Forum Boarium?; variously

						signu Herculis Victoris Imperator dedicat.	reconstructed into Saturnian verse by scholars, v. Gordon #11
B?3	2954	25		Bozkar, Turkey	75	Serveilius C.f. imperator hostibus victeis, Isaura vetere capta, captiveis venum datis, sei dues sieve deast quoius in tutela oppidum vetus Isaura fuit votum solvit	Lengthy dedicatory inscription of Servilius; mentions conquest but not triumph; focus on general's agency in the victory absent; main clause ( votum solvit ) unlike other triumphal inscr.
B?4	2930	31		Rome	? (prob. 3 rd cent.?)	...co]soled ...]s nomen ...]ctom ...]d arma	Fragmentary remains of a dedicatory inscription, at least 4 lines in length; the final line ends arma , suggesting that this is a longer, more complex inscription most similar to the "B" type Tabulae Triumphales , v. Degrassi (1961-62).
C1		1	Livy 6.29.9	Rome	380	Iuppiter atque divi omnes hoc dederunt ut T. Quinctius dictator oppida novem caperet.	Cincinnatus' dedicatory and commemorative inscription placed under the statue of Jupiter he carried to the Capitoline from Praeneste
C?2		10	Ps.-Bassus GL 6.265.29K	Rome	190	Fundit fugat prosternit maximas legiones	A single line of Saturnian verse quoted by Ps.-Bassus; it contains a tricolon of military deeds accomplished by the verbs' subject, so it is likely a portion of a larger triumphal inscription, most similar to type "B"

C3	13	Livy 40.52; line 1 = GL 2.265.25K	Rome	179	Duello magno dirimendo regibus subiugendis, patrandae paci hac pugna exeunti L. Aemilio M. Aemilii filio <<res cessit gloriose>> auspicio imperio felicitate ductuque eius inter Ephesum Samum Chiumque, inspectante eopse Antiocho, exercitu omni, equitatu elephantisque, classis regis Antiochi antea invicta fusa contusa fugataque est, ibique eo die naves longae cum omnibus sociis captae quadraginta duae. Ea pugna pugnata rex Antiochus regnumque <<eius in potestate populi Romani redactum>>	Long, complex account of L. Aemilius Regillus' deeds against Antiochus; Livy describes it as inscribed above the doors of the temple of Lares Marini on the Campus Martius; the first line is cited by Ps.- Bassus as an example of Saturnian verse; Livy describes Regillus' triumph at 37.58.3
C4	15	Livy 41.28	Rome	174	Ti. Semproni Gracchi consulis imperio auspicioque legio exercitusque populi Romani Sardiniam subegit. In ea provincia hostium caesa aut capta supra octoginta milia. Re publica felicissime gesta atque libertatis <<sociis,>> vectigalibus restitutis, exercitum salvom atque incolumem plenissimum praeda domum reportavit; iterum triumphans in urbem reddit. Cuius rei ergo hanc tabulam donum Iovi dedit.	An inscription of Ti. Sempronius Gracchus for the triumph given for his victory in Sardinia; Livy describes the text as inscribed on a tablet placed on the Temple of Mater Matutae
C5	28	Pliny NH 7.98	Rome	61	Cum oram maratimam praedonibus liberasset et imperium maris populo Romano restituissest ex Asia, Ponto, Armenia, Paphlagonia, Cappadocia, Cilicia, Syria, Scythia, Iudeais, Albanis, Hiberia, insula Creta, Bastrensis, et super haec de rege Mithridate atque Tigrane triumphavit.	Pliny calls this text the praefatio to Pompey's triumph

C6		27	Pliny NH 7.97	Rome	60	Cn. Pompeius Magnus imperator bello XXX annorum confecto fusis fugatis occisis in ditionem acceptis hominum centiens viciens semel LXXXIII depresso aut captis navibus DCCXLVI oppidis castellis MDXXXVIII in fidem receptis terris a Maeotis ad Rubrum mare subactis votum merito Minervae.	Pliny's account of Pompey's inscription on the Temple of Minerva in his theater; replete with language typical of the Tabulae Triumphales , including tricola.
C?7		29	GL 6.294.1K	Rome	? (perhaps 190 BCE?)	fundit fugat prosternit maximas legiones	A single line of Saturnian verse quoted as an example of the meter from the tabula of "Acilius Glabrio"; perhaps a reference to Manius Acilius Glabrio who triumphed in 190 BCE? (v. Livy 37.46.2); the single line quoted cannot stand on its own without a larger context and mentions specific acts of war, so it is likely part of a longer text; the portion cited is contains a tricolon within the single line of verse, strengthening its association with the type "C" literary inscriptions
E1	9	7	W4	Rome	200?	Hec cepit Corsica Aleriaque urbe, dedet Tempestatebus aide merito	Two lines of a later elogium from the tomb of the Scipiones, appended under the titulus of L. Cornelius Scipio (son of Barbatus), cos. 259

E2	7	9	W2	Rome	190?	Taurasia Cisauna Samnio cepit, subigit omne Loucanam opsidesque abdoucit	Another two lines from a later elogium , appended to the titulus of L. Cornelius Scipio Barbatus, cos. 298, probably later than E1
E3	12	17	W6	Rome	160?	Pater regem Antioco subegit	A single line from an elogium of L. Cornelius Scipio (son of Asiaticus), but in reference to Asiaticus' victory over Antiochus
E?4	652	23	W132; Morgan (1973)	Aquileia?	129?	...ex itinere et Tauriscos Carnosque et Liburnos ex maribus coactos maritumas ad oras diebus ter quineis quarter fudit et fugavit. Fausteis signeis consileis praecipuos Tuditanus ita Romae egit triumphum, statuamque dedit Timavo; sacra patria ei resituit, atque magistreis tradit.	A fragmentary elogium on two stones found at Aquileia to commemorate the victory and triumph of C. Sempronius Tuditanus (cos. 129); some scholars (v., e.g., Degrassi Inscr. Ital. XIII.3.75) have argued that the stones were originally setup elsewhere and copied at (or moved to?) Aquileia late in the 2 nd cent; Morgan (1973) argues that the inscr. at Aquileia was original but that it was setup by the town in commemoration of Tuditanus' deeds; there are various ways scholars have reconstructed the text into Saturnians (v. Warmington 132)
